

Potions: The Witch is an expert as brewing all manner of curious concoctions. A single hero in the warband who have hired the Witch may partake of such a potion before the battle. Roll a D6 to discover the draught's effect.

- 1 Debilitating: The potion is simply too potent for the hero and weakens them. They are at -1 Toughness for whole of the next battle until they roll a 6 on a D6 in the recovery phase to shrug off the ill effects.
- 2-3 Strength. The hero is infused with strength as he quaffs the potion. He is at +1 Strength until he rolls a 1 on a D6 in the recovery phase.
- 4-5 Resilience. An inner resilience passes through the hero. He is at +1 to Toughness until he rolls a 1 on a D6 in the recovery phase.
- 6 Fortitude. The hero's constitution is increased and he feels ready to take anyone on. He gains an extra wound for the whole battle. However, once lost the wound cannot be restored.

Reluctant: Whilst she is happy to use her magic to aid the warband, the Witch is reluctant to enter the fray herself. As such the Witch will never charge (although if charged she will defend herself) and will always try to stay at least 8" away from enemy models and must move away if she finds herself within this distance.

Representing Your Hired Swords

The Hired Swords described in this article are easy enough to represent with little conversion using existing Citadel Miniatures. Below a present a summary of the models I use to represent my Hired Swords and where appropriate some suggestions for others.

Duelist. For my Duelist I used the old Militia with pistol model, adding a sword from the Mordheim accessory sprue. Any model with a pistol will do really, as long as they look mysterious and menacing enough!

Bard. For the Bard I used the Tristran the Troubadour model (Bretonnian special character). Simply cut his body at the waist, add some Mordheim human mercenary legs and replace his lance with the lute. Any rough areas can be tidied up with green stuff, easy!

Bounty Hunter. Bounty Hunters can be represented using the human mercenary sprue. In fact Journal 35 has some excellent examples of what you could do. I personally use the Braganza model from Braganza's Besiegers, with his plume filed off and the addition of some rope and a sword from the Mordheim accessory sprue.

Witch. Witch models can be represented using the female Middenheimer Youngblood model. Swap one of her hammers and replace it with a staff end there you have it, a Witch! If you really want to make her stand out, why not use Bastet the cat (Neferata's familiar) as a familiar.

Charms & Hexes

Charms and Hexes are the magic of Witches. They involve copious amounts of spell ingredients and painstaking incantations but they can be devastating reducing enemies to pitiful wrecks and infusing comrades with almost incomprehensible luck

D6 Result

1 Scry

Difficulty 6

The Witch uses ancient diving crystals to foretell the future and influence the actions of her comrades.

For the duration of the turn one hero or henchman may re-roll D3 dice rolls and + or -1 to the result.

2 Curse

Difficulty 6

The Witch bestows a powerful curse on one of her enemies that saps their confidence and resolve.

One enemy model within 12" of the Witch must re-roll all successful dice rolls for the duration of this and their next turn.

3 Dust of the Blind

Difficulty 9

Casting a handful of dust into the air, the Witch blows it around her, blinding her enemies.

One enemy model within 16" of the Witch is struck instantly blind. They may not shoot, charge or run, are at half Weapon Skill and will move in a random direction at the start of their turn. The Blindness lasts until the Witch casts another spell or moves.

4 Age of Stone

Difficulty 8

Whispering words of ancient power the Witch causes an enemy to age rapidly before their very eyes, making them weak and feeble!

One enemy model within 12" of the Witch will be severely debilitated and all of their characteristics are reduced by -1 for the duration of this and their next turn.

5 Warrior's Bane

Difficulty 7

Muttering a dark and malicious incantation the Witch causes a warrior's grip to loosen, making it almost impossible for them to attack.

One enemy model within 18" of the Witch will be unable to use any of their weapons as they perpetually slip from their grasp. They will be unable to shoot and count as fighting with fists in hand-to-hand combat. The enchantment lasts for the duration of this and their next turn.

6 Cure

Difficulty 6

A faint aura extends from the Witch's body. All who are touched by it feel warmth and vitality flowing through their veins.

All friendly models within 6" of the Witch have a single wound healed. In addition any stunned or knocked down models may immediately stand up.

It's a Kind Of Magic

By Jake Thornton

There are many wizards, witches and mages that roam the Old World, many in search of the powerful wyrdstone that lies scattered across the ruins of Mordheim. However, not all are seeking wealth and power alone.

Elf Mage

45 gold crowns to hire

Unlike the staid and traditionally insular archmages of the Tower of Saphery, devotees of the smaller Djed'hi temple are wanderers. After a brief few decades study at the temple on Ulthuan, they leave to seek enlightenment in the true ways of magic by studying the ways of the world. There is no single path to this enlightenment, indeed there are said to be more paths than there are those that tread them.

The Djed'hi are not merely students of the academic arts. Their wanderings are perilous and inevitably lead them into dangerous lands where they must defend themselves. Thus, most of their magics are means to enable them to survive to explore the world another day.

Few of the Djed'hi own much in the way of possessions, and this saves them from some of the less savoury folk they encounter. However, although robbing them is generally not worth the effort, the mere fact that they are Elves is enough to attract bigots and small-minded fools to attack them. All this just underlines the natural feelings of superiority of the wanderers, which in turn makes their enlightenment all the more distant.

May be Hired: Human Mercenaries may hire Elf Mages.

Elf Mage	5	4	3	3	3	2	6	1	8

Rating: An Elf Mage increases the warband's rating by +23 Points.

Equipment: Staff, Elven cloak.

Skills: An Elf Mage is a wanderer and will not stay long enough with a warband to learn new skills.

SPECIAL RULES

Wizard: Elf Mages are magicians and have three spells generated at random from the list on the opposite page. See the magic section of the rulebook for more details.

Sorcery: See page 123 of the rulebook.

Fey: Hostile magic spells will not affect the Elf on a D6 roll of a 4+.

Wanderer: An Elf Mage is a wanderer, and will only stay with a warband for the duration of a single battle. A warband who used an Elf Mage in their last battle may not seek out another until they have fought at least one battle without one.

Spells Of The Djed'hi

- 1 Divination of Shirath Difficulty 6
Looking into the mists of the future, the Mage divines his best move.
 The Mage may re-roll all his failed dice rolls, though the second result stands. The effect lasts until the beginning of the Mage's next turn.
- 2 Shimmering Shield Difficulty 7
The Mage is surrounded by a pale glow.
 This spell acts as a shield to protect the Mage. It gives him an additional unmodified 5+ save against all attacks. The effect lasts until the beginning of the Mage's next turn.
- 3 Statue of Light Difficulty 7
A pillar of light transfixes the Mage as another stabs down from the heavens to pin his target.
 The Mage chooses a single enemy model he can see. That model may not move as long as the Mage remains both static and alive. The Mage and the target may cast spells normally, but fight in close combat at -2 WS (minimum of 1).
- 4 Fleeting Shadows Difficulty 8
The Mage slips between worlds, shimmering in and out of existence and becoming hard to pinpoint exactly.
 The first time the Mage is hit in close combat or shooting, the spell protects him and the hit is ignored. Move the Mage 2" from his current position in a random direction (but not off a cliff, etc). This is where he really was all along. The spell remains in play until it saves the Mage from a hit, whereupon it is dispelled. It may not be cast again whilst it is in play.
- 5 Hunter's Fury Difficulty 9
The Mage gestures at the target, and glowing arrows shoot from his fingertips to fly at the foe.
 The spell summons D3+1 arrows which the Mage can use to shoot against one enemy model following the rules for normal shooting. The arrows have a range of 36". Use the Mage's own Ballistic Skill to determine whether he hits or not, but ignore movement, range and cover penalties. Each arrow causes one S3 hit.
- 6 Silent Guardian Difficulty 9
Glowing swords appear by the Mage, leaping to his defence if he is attacked in close combat.
 This spell acts as an invisible guardian that will defend the Mage. If the Mage is attacked in close combat then the guardian will fight first with WS5, S3. The guardian will make 1 attack per turn against each enemy that attacks the Mage. The guardian will not leave the Mage's side, and will only fight if the Mage himself is being attacked. The Guardian cannot be attacked in return and will only be dispelled if the Mage casts another spell or dies.

Clan Skryre rat Ogre

The warlock engineers of Clan Skryre are renowned for their fiendish inventions which utilise a blend of foul magic and arcane machinery. The Clan Skryre Rat Ogre is the pinnacle of their devilish engineering, utilising the corpse of a Rat Ogre combined with a mechanical exoskeleton and powered by refined wyrdstone. The Clan hires out the handful that it has made to further test them in combat. In battle it is a terrifying if somewhat unreliable beast.

Hire Fee: 100 gold crowns, 1 piece of Wyrdstone upkeep.

May be hired: Only Skaven warbands may hire the Clan Skryre Rat Ogre.

Rating: The Clan Skryre Rat Ogre increases the warband's rating by +25 points.

Profile	M	WS	BS	S	T	W	I	A	Ld
Rat Ogre	4	3	3	5	5	3	1	3	10

Weapons/Armour: Jaws and claws! In addition the Rat Ogre is armed with a small Warpfire Thrower on its mechanical left arm.

The part-mechanical body of the Rat Ogre is very hardy and confers 4+ armour save.

SPECIAL RULES

Skills: The Clan Skryre Rat Ogre is a nightmarish bio-mechanoid creation that is solely driven by the dark sorcery of the Clan Skryre Warlocks and so gains no experience.

Large: The Clan Skryre Rat Ogre is a huge creature that towers above the heads of its fellow Skaven and men alike. Any warrior may shoot at a Rat Ogre, even if it is not the closet target.

Fear: The Clan Skryre Rat Ogre is a fearsome, monstrous beast that causes Fear.

Bio Machinery: The Clan Skryre Rat Ogre is not alive as such, being a monstrous combination of dead flesh, arcane Skaven technology and dark sorcery. The Clan Skryre Rat Ogre is immune to psychology and never leaves combat.

Wyrdstone Powered: The Clan Skryre Rat Ogre is a mindless automaton and does not require any pay – it does – however, require Wyrdstone shards to power it. It requires a single piece of Wyrdstone before each game to be 'powered-up'.

May not run: The Clan Skryre Rat Ogre is a huge lumbering monster-machine that lacks the sheer animal speed of a living Rat Ogre. It may not run.

Immune to Poison: The Clan Skryre Rat Ogre is not affected by any poisons.

Warfire Thrower

The Clan Skryre Rat Ogre has a smaller version of the dreaded warfire thrower built into one of its arms.

Range 6" Strength 4 Save Modifier -1

SPECIAL RULES

Jet of Flame: Draw a line 6" long and 2" wide. All models in its path are hit on a 4+ with no modifiers. In addition, the warfire thrower causes fire damage

(see the rules for the Brazier Iron from page 85 of the Mordheim 2002 annual).

A new Hired Sword of the insidious Skaven

By Stephanus Harburgh

Unreliable: The technology of biomechanics is still pretty much in its infancy and as with most Clan Skryre experiments is neither safe nor entirely reliable! At the beginning of each turn, the Skaven player should roll a D6 to activate and work the Rat Ogre. On a roll of 2-6 everything is fine and the Rat Ogre may be moved normally. On the roll of a 1, something has gone drastically wrong – roll again on the Malfunction table overleaf:

Malfunction Table

D6 Result

- 1 Explodes – Something has gone horribly wrong with the Rat Ogre's warpstone generator and it has overloaded, exploding in a bright green flash! All models within 6" of the Rat Ogre receive a single Strength 5 hit. The Rat Ogre is completely destroyed. Do not roll for injuries after the game.
- 2 Goes berserk! – From now until the end of the game, the Rat Ogre is out of control. At the start of each of the Skaven player's turns, the Rat Ogre will move randomly (use the Artillery Scatter dice from Warhammer to determine the distance and direction moved) – if there are any warriors within charge range (of either side) it will charge them, otherwise it will move full pace towards the nearest warrior.
- 3 Shuts Down – The warpstone generator fizzles out and the Rat Ogre comes to a halt for the rest of the battle. It is hit automatically if engaged in close combat.
- 4 Temporary Loss of Control – The Rat Ogre moves in a random direction and if it comes into contact with any warriors (of either side) it attacks and counts as charging. If it does not move into contact with any warriors but there are warriors within range of its warpfire thrower, it will fire this at them instead.
- 5-6 Freezes – The Rat Ogre just freezes on the spot for this turn. It is hit automatically if engaged in close combat.

A Clan Skryre Rat Ogre clambers attacks the Dwarf Treasure Hunters.

The hunched, cloaked figure scurried down the dank passageway to the large cavern deep under the ruins of the former city of Men. The walls of the cavern were encrusted with the filth of ages and the floor was strewn with scraps of fur and damp straw. Water constantly trickled down the roughly hewn walls and collected into a myriad of puddles on the uneven floor. The stench was unbelievable. None of this bothered the cavern's inhabitants however, for this foul burrow was their home.

By the entrance to the cavern stood two black clad, mutated rat-men clutching spears with wickedly barbed heads. In the centre of the dimly lit chamber two more of these creatures stood engaged in what appeared to be conversation, although the speed of their chattering speech made individual sounds near incomprehensible.

"Much-much respect honoured representative of mighty Clan Skryre. It is with affection that we greet Warlock Kraskar..." spoke the black-clad rat-man in its strange tongue carefully observing inter-clan etiquette. The rat-man bowed low, as was the custom of its clan from the east, but it always kept its beady red eyes locked upon its guest and one claw-like hand upon the hilt of a serrated dagger carefully concealed in its cloak.

"Clan Skryre returns most kind regards of good friend-friend Clan Eshin." Replied the taller rat mutant with a nonchalant wave of its paw. Its apparent apathy unsettled the other rat-man so that it tightened its grip upon its poisoned blade. Only the taller rat-man's mangy brown-furred muzzle showed beneath the insane mix of heavy robes and pipes, valves, knobs and other metallic parts that fizzled with barely contained energy. The Warlock's face was obscured by a strange metal hood covered in eldritch runes and its eyes were hidden behind heavy goggles.

"Price of two hundred warp tokens for new Clan Skryre weapon agreeable to Clan Eshin, yes-yes?" the Warlock squeaked. The other rat-man audibly swallowed, its nervousness apparent, as it fought against the desire to squirt the musk of fear.

"M... Mighty Lord Nisquit has instructed payment of one hundred and fifty warp tokens for new-new weap..." the Clan Eshin agent was cut off mid-sentence as the Warlock barked at it aggressively, "Two hundred no less, less!"

The black-robed rat-man snarled, baring its cracked yellow incisors, "New weapon too-too slow, too-too noisy... not, not useful to Clan Eshin." The Clan Eshin agent spat back. Surprisingly the Warlock let out a soft cackle and appeared at ease. "Seen-seen in battle?" the Warlock said in an accusing tone running its slavering tongue over its yellowing teeth. The silence answered the Warlock's question. "Bring-bring most expendable warriors... feast-feast on fine display!" the Warlock shouted maniacally, clearly excited at the prospect of the live test.

The Clan Eshin agent issued some quick orders to the rat-man that had just entered. It quickly scurried off. After a short while, the rat-man returned with a dozen or so emaciated looking rat-slaves armed with an assortment of weapons. The Warlock fiddled with a valve and a few knobs on the rear of the vast Clan Skryre war-machine. A resonating hum filled the dank cavern as the warmachine came to life, its rotten skull moving from side to side as it purveyed the inhabitants of the cavern.

The Clan Eshin agent hissed at the rat-slaves and they warily advanced upon the warmachine, casting cursory glances into the gloomy depths of the cavern where several sets of red eyes glinted. The Warlock pointed at the rat-slaves and the giant ogre-sized warmachine lurched forward in a jerky motion swinging rotten biomechanical limbs at its prey. Rusty swords and spears clashed against the body of the metal monstrosity, leaving little more than scratches against its hide. The beast pounded with its mighty arms leaving red ruin wherever a rat-slave stood. The rat-slaves panicked and tried to flee, throwing down their inadequate weapons and squirting the musk of fear as they squealed in terror. The Clan Skryre mechanoid, utterly emotionless, raised its heavy tube-like left arm and spurted a huge gout of green flame over its fleeing adversaries. The stench of burnt meat and fur filled the cavern and all of the rat-slaves lay dead and dying.

"Two hundred warp tokens?" the Warlock reiterated as it turned towards the shocked form of the Clan Eshin agent.

"T-two hundred, most-most acceptable..."

Dramatis personae

This section details some of the strangest and most famous (or infamous) characters to be found in Mordheim and the outlying settlements. Occasionally, these warriors join forces with a warband (usually demanding wyrdstone or a bag of gold in payment).

The following characters (known as 'special characters') are hard to find and expensive to hire – you must be lucky and wealthy to attract their attention.

This list does not, by any means, include all the famous warriors and cold-hearted killers you could encounter in Mordheim. There are famous Dwarf gold hunters, Burgomeisters of the Merchants' Guild, Theodor, the marksman of Hochland, and many others. In fact we hope that the characters detailed here will inspire players to invent special characters of their own.

You can only ever have one of a particular special character in your warband. A warband may employ as many special characters as it likes – if it can afford them!

Looking for special characters

After a battle, you can send any number of your Heroes to look for a special character. Only Heroes can look (Henchmen are rarely trustworthy enough). Heroes who went out of action in the last battle are unable to join the search because they are recovering from their wounds.

Heroes who are looking for a special character cannot look for rare items. Decide which special character you are seeking, and how many Heroes have been sent to look for him. Roll a D6 for each searcher. If any of the searchers rolls under his Initiative he has located the special character. You can, of course, only find one of a particular special character, no matter how many searchers roll under their Initiative.

Hire fee

The warband must pay the hire fee for the special character when he is recruited, and after each battle he fights, including the first, you must pay an upkeep fee. These fees are indicated in the entries. This money comes from the warband's treasury in the same way as buying new weapons or recruiting new warriors. If you don't have enough gold to pay for the special character he leaves the warband.

experience, injuries and equipment

Special characters have their own equipment. Only they may use this equipment; it can't be given to other warriors. Furthermore, you cannot buy extra weapons or equipment for a special character.

Special characters do not earn Experience points, although they suffer serious injuries, just like Heroes, if they are taken out of action.

Each special character's description tells you how much to add to your warband's rating for including them (taking into account their experience and abilities).

Johann the Knife

"Get your hands off me, brute! Let go of me, and I'll tell you what I know. So, you seek Johann the Knife! Take my advice, friend, do not speak his name out loud. He does not like people talking about him in the street. What do you seek him for anyway? So, you've got a job for him! Well, why didn't you say so before? I cannot say where you might find him, because I do not know myself. Who does? Anyway, no matter. When he hears word, he will find you soon enough! Ha! ha! It will cost you though, for he likes gold, does Johann. He knows this city – what's left of it – like the back of his hand. If he can't find someone, no-one can. He is like a shadow, he can go in and out of anywhere, unseen. He can also fight his way out of anywhere. No-one can catch him.

As quick as lightning with a knife, he is!

No traces, all very neat and tidy. All I need from you is the gold, and the name. Johann will do the rest."

Conversation
overheard in Mordheim

Of the many cutthroats and assassins for hire that infest the settlements around Mordheim, Johann the Knife is the most famous. He exhibits his vocation as hired knife-fighter and assassin extraordinaire by the various lethal-looking daggers hanging from his belt, and the mean glint of his eyes. Johann wears dark leather gear, slightly out of fashion, which has never been washed (or so the barmaids say). His long face bears the scars of many a fight, and his unkempt hair is lank and greasy.

Johann's purse is always heavy with gold, and he takes no trouble to hide it, since only a fool would try to steal it from him. Many have tried, and all have died... very quickly. The craftsmanship and quality of Johann's daggers is beyond compare, as he has taken them from the bodies of the many wealthy, but unskilful, opponents he has despatched in vicious duels.

Hire Fee: 70 gold crowns to hire; +30 gold crowns upkeep cost. Johann is addicted to Crimson Shade, so you may hire him for one portion of Crimson Shade if you wish.

May be Hired: Any warband except Skaven, Undead and the Possessed may hire Johann.

Rating: Johann the Knife increases a warband's rating by +60 points.

	M	WS	BS	S	T	W	I	A	Id
Johann	4	3	6	4	3	2	6	1	7

Weapons/Armour: Johann is armed with countless throwing knives and several long daggers (he always counts as having two swords in close combat). His weapons are always coated with Black Lotus and he may take Crimson Shade before a battle if you want him to.

SKILLS

Johann has the following skills: Dodge, Scale Sheer Surfaces, Quick Shot, Eagle Eyes and Knife Fighter.

SPECIAL RULES

Knife Fighter Extraordinaire: Johann has a deserved reputation for being the greatest knife-fighter in whole of the Empire. Unlike normal warriors, he can combine the Knife Fighter and Quick Shot skills (yes, he can throw six throwing knives in one turn if he does not move!).

Aenur, the sword of twilight

Many famous swordsmen have come to Mordheim to make their fortune, but few can match the terrifying reputation of the Elf swordsman Aenur. This mighty warrior was responsible for slaying the entire Possessed warband of Karl Zimmeran, and single-handedly cleansed the Rat Hole, a settlement that had been overrun by Beastmen.

Rumours about Aenur's origin abound. Elves usually avoid human settlements, and Mordheim in particular, but for some reason the tall, pale swordsman has stayed in the proximity of the ruined city for months.

Some say Aenur comes from beyond the Great Ocean, from the fabled Elven kingdoms, and that he is the captain of the legendary Order of Swordmasters. Others claim that he is a Wood Elf prince in exile. Aenur himself says little about his past and those who are wise do not question him.

Whenever a warband prepares an expedition to explore the inner city, there is a chance they may hear a sharp rap at the gate of their encampment – their unexpected visitor will be Aenur, offering his services to their leader.

If, indeed, Aenur seeks something in the grim ruins of Mordheim, no-one knows what this might be. Some say that he wishes to explore the Pit itself, and slay the enigmatic Shadow Lord, though such a task must surely be above even this mighty warrior.

Aenur is tall even for an Elf, and beneath his finely woven Elven cloak he wears armour of gleaming ithilmar. He carries a sword of immense size which is rumoured to have arcane properties. Certainly no-one who has been struck by it has ever lived to tell the tale.

Hire Fee: 150 gold crowns to hire.

May be Hired: Any warband except Skaven, Undead and the Possessed may hire Aenur.

Rating: Aenur increases the warband's rating by +100 points.

	M	WS	BS	S	T	W	I	A	Ld
Aenur	5	8	4	4	3	2	7	3	8

Weapons/Armour: Aenur wears ithilmar armour, an Elven cloak and carries an enormous sword known as Ienh-Khain.

Skills: Aenur has the following skills: Strike to Injure, Expert Swordsman, Step Aside, Sprint, Lightning Reflexes, Dodge and Mighty Blow.

SPECIAL RULES

Invincible Swordsman. Aenur always hits his opponents on a roll of 2+ in hand-to-hand combat.

Wanderer. Aenur only ever stays with a warband for the duration of the battle. A warband who used Aenur in their last battle may not seek him out until they have fought at least one battle without him.

Ienh-Khain (the Hand of Khaine). Ienh-Khain is an incredibly long single-edged sword, which Aenur uses with consummate skill. This sword allows Aenur to parry, adds +1 to his Strength and causes a critical hit on a roll of 5-6 when rolling to wound.

— Veskit, high executioner of clan eshin —

"It killed us all! We couldn't stop it, our weapons broke against its body... It was black, like a shadow, and it was moving so fast, cutting men to shreds left and right. We fought, yes we fought hard, and old Marcus even tried his trick with the oil flask. It was engulfed by flames and for a moment we thought we'd stopped it. No way, it came out of the fire, still ablaze. It was as if it didn't care! That was too much and those left of us ran for it. Still it followed us, on and on, relentless and merciless. There was no escaping, no hiding, its red eye could always spot you. Oh that eye... that eye..."

Last words of Fritz Huber at the Inn of the Red Moon.

Veskit was already a talented clan Eshin Assassin when he was entrusted with his most difficult mission. He was hired by Clan Skryre to free one of their oldest and most experienced Warlocks who was being held hostage by a rival clan.

Veskit managed to take the prisoner back, fighting his way through the guards, but at a very high cost. He suffered terrible wounds and would have certainly died, but the Nightmaster of Clan Eshin made a pact with the Warlock Engineers. The Skaven scientist-sorcerers replaced various parts of Veskit's body with their part technological, part magical implants and made him into a walking arsenal of deadly weapons. Veskit is now more a machine than a living thing, and his thirst for killing has become almost uncontrollable.

When news of the wyrdstone came to the hidden fortress of Clan Eshin, the Nightmaster sent Veskit to Mordheim to deter the man-things from exploring the city, which rightfully belonged to the Skaven. From that day on, many adventurers have met their end in the dark allies of Mordheim. Veskit's unblinking eye misses nothing, and those he hunts on the streets of Mordheim never return to the Gargoyle Gate.

Hire Fee: 80 gold crowns to hire; +35 gold crowns upkeep cost.

May be Hired: Veskit may only be hired by Skaven warbands.

Rating: Veskit increases the warband's rating by +70 points.

	M	WS	BS	S	T	W	I	A	Id
Veskit	5	5	4	4	4	2	5	4	8

Weapons/Armour: Eshin Fighting Claws (the extra attack is included in his profile). Each Fighting Claw incorporates an in-built warlock pistol, so Veskit can shoot in every turn, and he fights in close combat with Strength 5 and a save modifier of -3 (note that he can still parry twice with his claws!).

SPECIAL RULES

Unfeeling. Veskit is a cold, calculating killing machine, and feels few of the emotions that living things do. He is therefore immune to all psychology.

No Pain. Veskit ignores knocked down and stunned results on the Injury chart. He must lose his last wound and be taken out of action before he is removed from battle.

Unblinking Eye. Thanks to the sorcerous devices built by the Warlock Engineers of Clan Skryre, Veskit can spot hidden enemies within twice his Initiative value in inches.

Metallic Body. These give Veskit his high Toughness and a 3+ armour save.

✠ Bertha Bestraufung, High matriarch of the sisterhood ✠

Years ago, Bertha sought refuge in the strict discipline and devotions of the Sisters of Sigmar. Only the warrior god of the Empire was worthy of her esteem. Only He was constant and faithful. And had not holy Sigmar, in truth, chosen her to be one of his handmaidens?

The pure blood of the Unberogens runs in Bertha's veins, as evinced by her long golden plaits and fierce blue eyes, which can freeze a Goblin at twenty paces with an icy glare. Even her voice commands authority, turning strong, hairy-thewed men into trembling wretches.

The Sisters look up to Bertha as an example of holy womanhood. She rose rapidly through the ranks of the Sisterhood, and on her deathbed the revered Matriarch Cassandra named Bertha her successor, new High Matriarch, and Abedissa of Sigmar's Rock.

Sometimes, as Bertha straps on her Gromril armour in the light of dawn, she reflects on the lost innocence of her youth. Then, angrily, she tightens the studded leather straps tightly over her iron-hard limbs and strides outside to spend hours practising with her great warhammers, preparing herself, as a bride of Sigmar should, for the day of battle.

Extract from the Tome of Heroes

Hire Fee: None. Bertha will come to the aid of any Sisters of Sigmar warband if they send one or more of their Heroines to look for her in the normal manner, rolling under their Initiative (representing their efforts to gain audience with the High Matriarch). If she does grant an audience, she might decide that her personal help is needed in the forthcoming battle. She will only come to the aid of a Sisters of Sigmar warband if their enemy has a higher warband rating. Consult the table below, and roll a D6 to see whether Bertha will aid the warband.

Rating: Bertha increases a warband's rating by +105 points.

Weapons/Armour: Bertha is armed with two Sigmarite warhammers, wears gromril armour, and carries a vial of blessed water and a holy relic.

SKILLS

Bertha has the following skills: Mighty Blow, Unstoppable Charge and Righteous Fury.

PRAYERS OF SIGMAR

Bertha knows all six Prayers of Sigmar.

SPECIAL RULES

High Matriarch. As the High Matriarch of the Sisters of Sigmar's Mercy, Bertha will automatically be the leader of any warband she joins.

A Pair of Rogues

Never in the history of the Empire have there been such a villainous pair of rogues as Marquand Volker and Ulli Leitpold. Once brigands in a mercenary regiment responsible for a long list of crimes, they were caught by bounty hunters and enlisted into the slave army of the Count of Stirland. The pair escaped their captors on the outskirts of Mordheim, City of the Damned, a ruinous place where death and glory could be found in equal measure. The infamous bandits instantly recognised it as home.

Ulli and Marquand quickly developed a strong rapport with the scum of Mordheim, a place inhabited by the corrupt and immoral outcasts of society. Their martial prowess and ruthless guile soon earned the nefarious partners in crime a high degree of notoriety. As a result, the less noble traders and prospectors of the accursed city eagerly sought out the services of these talented scoundrels.

But their assistance did not come without a high price. Whilst the pair would consider any task thrown their way for a mere handful of gold coin, their loyalty was as fickle as the winds of Chaos. They built up a reputation of betraying employers and stabbing them in the back for the sake of a single crown. They were certainly not beyond using foul and despicable tricks to save their own worthless hides or line their own pockets.

What became of the despicable pair, none can say but legends of their deeds can to this day be heard in taverns throughout the Old World. Each story is more outlandish than the next but few ever doubt the truth behind these fantastic tales.

Dramatis Personae

Both Ulli and Marquand are new Dramatis Personae as described on page 152 of the Mordheim rulebook and follow all of the standard rules therein. Unlike the other Dramatis Personae Ulli, and Marquand are mercenaries hired as a pair for one battle only, you cannot hire only one of them.

May be Hired: any warband except Sisters of Sigmar and Witch Hunters may hire these rogues.

Hire Fee: 30 Gold Crowns to hire as a pair.

Rating: Ulli and Marquand increase the warband rating by +60 points.

Marquand Volker

Reputedly the son of wealthy Marienburg merchants, what made Marquand embark on a career as a gambler and then a mercenary and assassin is unknown. What is known about this apparent 'fop' is that his appearance belies his true nature for he is quite deadly and entirely devoid of any morals. Marquand personifies Mordheim 'The City of the Damned' for he is corrupt and rotten to the core – just like that place he calls his 'home'. An expert swordsman and master of the throwing knife, there are few who have crossed him and lived. In the darkened corners of taverns, tales are told in nervous whispers about this cold-hearted killer's reputation: that he killed his first victim before he was ten; that he cut the heart out of the Duke of Suddenland while the Duke's wife slept on beside him. His deadliest foe is the Witch Hunter captain Gottlieb, 'The Flayer', whose face Marquand horribly disfigured whilst the erstwhile servant of Sigmar was attempting to redeem Marquand of his sins.

Ulli Leitpold

Marquand's sidekick and partner in crime. Little is known about this huge framed Middenheimer, apart from it is unwise to be caught anywhere near the business end of his massive warhammer! The tales tell that Ulli Leitpold started out as a mercenary soldier, often in the service of the armies of the Count of Stirland, and that he was present at the slaughter that ensued at the third siege of Nuln. Life as a mercenary is presumably where he derives his unthinking greed and cold nature, no doubt. Ulli spent some time as a bandit and thief and teamed up with Marquand when they were captured by bounty hunters and sentenced to live out their days in the penal battalions of the Count of Stirland. Neither as subtle or as flash as his Marienburg colleague, Ulli prefers to use a combination of brute force and low cunning to achieve his goals.

SPECIAL RULES

These special rules apply to both Ulli and Marquand.

Wanderers. See Aenur, the Sword of Twilight Mordheim rulebook page 153.

A Fistful of Crowns: These guys will do literally anything for money/wyrdstone and have been known to change sides and stab their former employers in the back for just a few crowns. To represent this, opposing player(s) may attempt to bribe the pair into betraying their employers and changing sides. At the start of the game, any player(s) wishing to do this must secretly write down how much he is willing to bribe them by (this must of course be more than the pair's starting hire fee!). The controlling/employing player is advised to secretly write down a counter bid at the start of the game also. The bribing player may then choose at the start of any of his turns to attempt to bribe them (even if they are in close combat!). If he does so he must reveal the amount he has written down and if this is more than the hire fee plus the amount the controlling player has for his counter-bid, then he gains control of the pair until the end of the game. Only the player who has control of the pair is forced to pay the additional amount so that if the original controlling player loses control of them through a bribe he doesn't have to pay the counter-bid.

Eg. Captain Steiner of the Averland Avengers Warband has managed to find the duplicitous pair when scouting the ruins. He pays them their hire fee of 30 gold crowns and they agree to join his warband for the next day's Wyrdstone hunting. Because Steiner is well aware of his new 'partners' treacherous reputation he keeps another 30 gold crowns set aside in a pouch just in case.

Later that day, Steiner comes across the warband of his arch rival, the Reiklander Captain Albrecht 'One Eye'. A fight ensues and when Albrecht recognises Ulli and Marquand (cutting a swathe through his men, no doubt!) he yells out to them that he will pay them fifty gold crowns if they change sides. Ulli and Marquand ponder this for a moment and then turn their weapons against the Averlanders. At this point Steiner throws his pouch of 30 crowns at their feet (making a total of 60 crowns and beating Albrecht's offer of 50) and, after counting the gold, our lovable rogues again turn their weapons towards the hapless Albrecht, much to Steiner's relief. Of course things could have been a lot different! For if Albrecht had bribed only 11 more crowns, because with 61 he would have beaten Steiner's counter-bid and Ulli and Marquand would have stabbed him in the back (literally!) and changed sides.

This bribing business can of course get quite interesting in multi-player games with different players attempting to bribe at different times.

Whichever player succeeds in bribing, or if the controlling player maintains control, they must pay this extra amount.

Where's the Money? These guys are not likely to accept any poor excuses if a warband cannot afford their extra pay. In the event that a player cannot pay the extra either in crowns or Wyrdstone (The warband should sell any Wyrdstone necessary in order to pay the hire or bribe) the pair will deprive the warband of an equal amount in equipment (based on market price). Failing this, they will take out their anger on the warband leader – immediately play a close combat with the pair versus the warband leader on his own and to the death!

Inseparable: These guys are like brothers (very nasty, unpleasant brothers!) and are totally inseparable. They must be hired as a pair and must remain within 8" of each other. In the event that one is taken Out of Action, the other will attempt to drag him off of the battlefield and to safety.

In a campaign, if one member of the partnership retires then the other will retire.

The bolt whistled mere inches past Ulli's ear.

Ducking back behind a pile of rubble he looked across to the other side of the street.

"Marquand, those shots are getting too close for my liking. What did the wizard want that this madman thinks is so worthwhile defending, and why did I have to hide in the privy whilst you arranged the deal?"

From the broken frame of a window, the flamboyantly dressed Marquand called back to his friend.

"It's a book Ulli, now do me a favour and tell me when you see the crossbowman again."

Ulli raised his head cautiously above the cover of a large chunk of stone.

"It had better be a damn good story, that's all I can say," the broad chested Middenheimer shouted back to his comrade, as another bolt flew through the air, slicing through Ulli's topknot harmlessly.

"If you think I'm risking my neck like that again Marquand you're sadly mistaken." Ulli growled at his friend.

"No need Ulli, it's safe, you can stop cowering behind that stone now."

Standing up Ulli spied the marksman's body draped from a window on the second floor of a ruined townhouse. Blood trickled down the wall from a wound in the man's side from where a small dagger protruded.

"I just needed a small distraction my friend, thank you for obliging. You know I never miss my mark!" Marquand drew his fine blade from its scabbard. "Now if you'd be so kind as to make good use of that hammer of yours to break down the door, we'll see off the remaining guards and take that book to the market."

A puzzled look crossed Ulli's face. "I thought we were to give it to the wizard!" he shouted, charging easily through the thick, but rotten door, and bringing his hammer into the midriff of a surprised Averlander mercenary.

Marquand quickly followed his companion, thrusting with lightning speed at two opponents with his sword. "We were, but think how much this thing will fetch on the open market. Besides, I'll let the old man know of the sale of his precious tome and he is welcome to try and bid for it. But I have a sneaky suspicion that there will be some competition in the auction. I foresee a mystery trader raising the bid a little before letting the wizard buy his precious book." A whirl of steel was the last sight Marquand's unfortunate opponent witnessed before falling to the floor, bleeding from multiple wounds.

Ulli smiled as he finished off the winded Averlander, crushing his skull with a mighty blow of his warhammer.

"You know, my father always told me that books, not fighting, was the best way to make my fortune. Perhaps he was right after all."

For Whom the Bell Tolls...

"Didn't scare yer did I?" mocked Klauten, a thick and toothless grin creasing his worn face.

The youthful Rauter shuddered, his feigned indifference at Klauten's goading unconvincing.

"N...no," he stammered, adjusting the uncomfortable weapons belt about his waist.

The night was black, the blackest Rauter had ever seen, and possessed with a cold the like of which chilled to the very core. The skeletal ruins stood as a stark silhouette against the silver moonlight and the shadows took on form in Rauter's mind as they advanced, scouring the ruins for forgotten loot. It was best to search at night, the darkness offered secrecy from prying eyes, yet not all that lurks in shadows needs eyes to see...

A deafening silence pervaded, the like of which turned Rauter's nerves to ash as he rubbed the Sigmarite talisman about his neck. "Don't be afraid boy," soothed Klauten, "I'll see no harm comes to you and the others aren't far should trouble find us."

"I'm not afraid," Rauter lied.

"Of course not boy, another tale then?"

"Y...yes," Rauter agreed with reluctance, eager to show his mettle, that he wouldn't be deterred by childhood nightmares. Klauten had been telling them all night in hushed whispers to pass the time and secretly to have some sport with his young charge.

"There are rumours..." Klauten began.

Rauter's eyes were fixed upon the deepening shadows cast by the

Ye dreaded Towne Cryer, a taylor of nightmarish proportions
By Nicodemus Kyme

moon's aura. Within he could imagine all many of foul hell spawn eager to drink his blood and steal his soul but spoke nothing of his fear to Klauten.

"...of a town cryer who walks the streets of our 'fair' city in the dead of night."

"A ghost?" Rauter hissed, turning to look at his comrade who was stony faced and full of serious melodrama.

"An apparition, but once a man whose life ended in tragedy. Yer see, he was possessed with a second sight, the ability to foretell what is yet to be and he saw the wrath of Sigmar about to be visited on this place. Oh, he tried to warn the city's patrons but they paid no heed and his efforts were in vain. Only mockery greeted him and he damned them all, for when the comet crashed down he stood at the heart of its fury vowing to return as a shade, to stalk the hollow streets for eternity bringing doom and woe to all that dwell here."

Rauter gazed around frantically, checking his blade; half expecting the apparition to appear at any moment.

"The tolling of his bell heralds his appearance and those that hear it are doomed to die or be driven mad, so the story goes..."

Rauter had grown pale and a cold sweat dappled his brow.

"Tis only a story boy," Klauten told him. The boy's fear seemed unnatural and it was unnerving.

Still Rauter did not move and merely stood listening intently. Klauten saw the boy's hand shaking against the hilt of his sword, his Reikland silver rings rattling on the pommel.

"What in the name of Sigmar is wrong?" Klauten asked, his agitation rising.

"Can't you hear it," Rauter muttered, his worse barely a whisper.

"Hear wha..." Klauten stopped as if death held him. He was older than Rauter and his ears were not as sharp but now he could make out the deep and ominous tolling of a bell, growing louder with every passing moment.

For Whom the Bell Tolls...

"Tell me this is a joke," Rauter pleaded, looking in all directions.

"Tis no joke, look!" Klauten hissed pointing to a craggy ridge up ahead. The remains of a school stood there, timbers laid bare like a rib cage and within a glowing figure advance inexorably towards them. His face was ghostly pale, decomposing and undead in appearance, his clothes were rags and in his left hand he held a rusty bell that he rang with otherworldly vigour.

"Tis the Town Cryer, he has found us!" Rauter wailed and fled into the night.

"By Sigmar, I thought it only a tale," Klauten breathed in disbelief. "Sigmar preserve us!" he cried and fled off after Rauter.

Rauter ran as if bell was at his heels, wheeling this way and that in a maddening course through the ruins. He looked back and realised to his horror that he was alone.

"Klauten!" he cried, tears streaming down his face, his heart large and loud in his mouth. "Where are you Klauten?" his voiced echoed in the night and this was his only response. Still the bell tolled and rang like the voice of his doom.

Through cluttered streets and crumbling buildings he ran, stumbling constantly, his face and hands cut and chafed. Ducking down an alleyway Rauter saw a figure up ahead. His heart leapt, it was Klauten.

"Thank Sigmar, Klauten," he gasped in relief, reaching his comrade, "I thought you were..."

Klauten wasn't moving and as Rauter grasped his arm he realised the man was cold and rigid like ice. Klauten's face was twisted into a horrific manifestation of utter terror, his heart stopped from beating by sheer fright.

Rauter's stomach twisted inside him when he realised someone was behind him. Gritting his teeth and offering up vainly, a prayer to his god he turned.

The face of death greeted him, glowing with a pale and unearthly aura, skeletal, with lank grey hair hanging from beneath a town cryer's cap.

"Oh yeah, oh yeah," it boomed with a voice full of quaking resonance. "Tis twelve of the clock and all are doomed!"

The Town Cryer in Nordheim

The Town Cryer is a ghostly apparition that stalks the streets of Mordheim in the dead of night. He is a special encounter/character that can be used in any scenario if agreed by all players participating in the game.

APPEARS AT WILL...

The apparition appears at will to taunt adventurers with its ghostly presence and prophecies. Roll 2D6 at the start of each player's turn. If one or both of the dice matches the turn number, the Town Cryer manifests in all its anti-glory! He appears within 2D6" of a random Hero of the player's warband whose turn it is and will only disappear when banished (see below), moves off the table or after D6 turns.

THE FLOATING PROPHET...

The Town Cryer always moves immediately prior to the player whose turn in which it appeared. It moves 2D6" in a random direction (determined by a Scatter dice) unless a living creature is within 6" then it will move towards them. The Town Cryer always moves the full amount and passes through all obstacles. If it moves off the board it disappears. If the Town Cryer passes through a living creature, it 'chills' them. The affected warrior(s) must pass a Leadership test or suffer -1 to their Strength and Leadership until the Town Cryer disappears or is banished.

A CURSE UPON ALL YOUR HEADS!

If a warrior is within 6" of the Town Cryer after it finishes moving, it issues a portentous warning that could spell their doom! It always challenges the closest warrior. Roll 2D6 on the table below to discover the nature of the Town Cryer's warning.

2D6 Curse of the Cryer

- 2-3 Doomed – "The weak of heart are doomed to die at the hour of two and death is nigh!" The warrior must pass a Leadership test or will suffer double Wounds until he proves his courage by passing a fear test.
- 4 Blinding – "Oh yeah, oh yeah, at the hour of three a blade is worth nowt when ye cannot see!" The warrior must pass a Toughness test or be struck blind! A blinded warrior moves D6" in a random direction, their WS is reduced to one, they cannot shoot or parry but as soon as they are hit their blindness ends.
- 5 Portent – "At the hour of one comrades in mourning, take heed my words, this fateful warning." If the warrior passes an Initiative test they may reroll their next failed dice roll. If they fail, they must re-roll their next successful dice roll instead.
- 6 Vertigo – "A steady nerve to hold your grip, lest the hour of four brings a fatal slip!" The warrior is transported to the highest building on the board. They must pass an immediate Initiative test or will fall.
- 7 Bladebane – "A blade will break at the hour of five, the only defence to remain alive!" The warrior must pass a Strength test. If they fail the next time they roll a 1 to hit their weapon breaks and is useless.
- 8 The Curse of One – "At the hour of six all shall bark, comrades flee, left alone in the dark!" The warrior must pass a Leadership test with a -1 modifier or in the next turn all the warrior's comrades disappear! The warrior must make an All Alone test each turn.
- 9 Rust – "In armour's defence the brave will trust, at the hour of seven let metal rust!" The warrior must pass a Toughness test or their armour will be rendered useless for the rest of the game.
- 10 Terror! – "Hearts quicken at the hour of eight confront your fears or face your fate!" The warrior must pass a Leadership test or flees immediately and suffers a -2 to their Leadership until the test is passed.
- 11-12 Hex of Aging – "The grip of decay at the hour of ten, no escape and you're old again!" The warrior must pass a Toughness test. If they fail they suffer a -1 on all characteristics except Wounds and Attacks. They must take a Toughness test each turn thereafter. If they pass, they return to normal. If they fail they suffer a further -1. If any characteristic reaches 0 they are taken out of action.

THE WORTHY SHALL BE SPARED

A warrior can choose not to take a characteristic test and chance that the Town Cryer spares him his fate. Roll 2D6. If the roll matches the hour of the curse he is spared and unaffected. If not, the warrior is cursed without even attempting the test!

BANISHMENT

As a spirit, the Town Cryer is ethereal and as such invulnerable to all mortal weapons. It can only be harmed by magic or prayers that cause physical damage but a warrior can try to strike the Town Cryer through sheer force of will. Before rolling to hit the warrior must pass a Leadership test with a -3 modifier. If failed, the warrior suffers a -1 to Leadership for the rest of the game. If they pass they may attack the Town Cryer as normal. If it suffers its last wound, the Town Cryer is banished and does not appear again.

Nicodemus, the cursed pilgrim

by Alessio Cavatore

Nicodemus was a promising apprentice to the mighty wizard Ganthbrandir. During one of his master's many absences, Nicodemus felt an irresistible call from one of the ancient artifacts stored in the wizard's laboratory: an exotic magic lantern. Created when the world was but young, this mighty artifact imprisoned the essence of a powerful Daemon. Many times Nicodemus' master had warned him not to touch the dangerous lantern, but the voice in the young wizard's mind was more convincing than even his mentor's: "Free me" it was saying "and I will grant you your heart's desire – anything you want will be yours! Mine is the power to make it so! Free me..." Nicodemus knew something of dealing with these denizens from the Realm of Chaos and immediately asked: "Do you swear it on the name of the Power you serve?" After a moment of silence, the voice answered: "I swear it in the name of my Master!" So the ambitious but naive young wizard was booked and proceeded to break the runic seals of the lantern.

"Free at last!" boomed the voice of the Daemon as it emerged from its prison in a billowing, many-hued cloud. The smoke then seemed to coalesce into the vague shape of a huge humanoid creature, with a bird-like head atop a long thin neck and vast wings seemingly made of iridescent light. The Daemon looked down on the human, and Nicodemus, controlling his fear, shouted: "The wish! You must grant me the wish as you swore it!" The mighty Chaos being smiled enigmatically and asked: "What is your wish then, manling?"

Fighting hard against all the instincts telling him to flee as far as he could from this unearthly abomination, Nicodemus revealed his wish: "I want to become the greatest wizard known to Mankind!"

A few long heartbeats later the fiery gaze of the Daemon left the wizard: "Granted!" whispered the Daemon and with one last evil chuckle disappeared back to the netherworld from whence it came.

Nicodemus did not perceive any immediate change and wondered how long it would take for the wish to come true. Only one thing was clear, he could not stay there anymore, because his master would certainly not be pleased by his actions. So Nicodemus picked up his things and fled, beginning his wanderings across the Old World.

Only a few weeks after that fateful day did Nicodemus realise the Daemon's trickery. His body was growing abnormally quickly – he was now an inch taller than the previous week and his body was getting proportionally bigger. The greatest wizard! The cunning Daemon had taken his wish too literally! Nicodemus had been taught to be extremely careful with the wording of anything related to wish-magic, but the sheer terror generated by the Daemon had overcome his training... Now he was doomed to live with his mistake.

From that day on, the life of Nicodemus has been an uninterrupted quest, a desperate search for a way to negate the curse of unstoppable growth. The only remedy he has stumbled upon is a powerful potion concocted by a wise hermit he met in the World's Edge Mountains. The potion's ability to delay the effects of the Daemon's powers has become a lifeline for the sizeable wizard. Unfortunately for Nicodemus he requires regular infusions of wyrdstone for the potion to take effect. Thus Nicodemus has been drawn to the greatest concentration of this wondrous mineral – Mordheim, City of the Damned.

Nicodemus's skills have greatly developed during his time in the dark streets of Mordheim and he is now something of a legend among the many warbands vying for supremacy in the city. Who knows where he will appear next and who will be join in his never ending search for the precious magic stones...

Weapons/Armour: Nicodemus carries an enormous Wizard's Staff (see Special Rules).

Skills

Nicodemus has the following skills: Sorcery and Fearsome.

Spells

Nicodemus knows all six Lesser Magic spells.

Special Rules

Cursed. Nicodemus is not interested in money, he desperately needs fragments of wyrdstone to delay his abnormal growth. When he joins the warband and after each battle he fights, including the first, you must pay him with a wyrdstone shard. If you don't have a shard or if you don't want to give it to Nicodemus and prefer to sell it, the cursed pilgrim will leave the warband, never to return.

Wizard's Staff. Nicodemus can use his staff in close combat in two different ways: he can use the staff with both hands, in which case the staff counts as a club, but also allows Nicodemus to parry as if he was armed with a buckler; alternatively Nicodemus can use the staff in his left hand as a normal club while he's wielding the Sword of Rezhebel (see Lesser Magic spells) in his right hand.

Note: the Sword of Rezhebel is a spell and not a normal sword, therefore it cannot be used to parry.

The Crow Master

The Saga of Simius Gantt

Prominent surgeon and devoted scientist of the Empire, Simius Gantt thrust mind, body and soul into the furthering of his knowledge of the universe and the physical betterment of others. When hearing of the blight that had struck the city of Mordheim his was the first voice that spoke of a 'duty to tend to the ailing'. He undertook a great journey from the lofty towers of Altdorf and set up a modest but well-equipped surgery on the outskirts of the City of the Damned.

All and sundry came to him, desperate for aid and he would turn none from his door save the daemonic creations that had made their home in the bowels of that cursed place. But Mordheim is dangerous, worse many times over than the most violent battlefield, for it harbours enemies unseen, those that corrupt from within yet without the host's knowledge. As more and more died upon his table, Simius questioned his ability and his calling, developing a morbid fascination with the dead. Unbeknownst to Simius a darker power was at work within him, the shards of the meteorite that blasted Mordheim, the wyrdstone he had been inextricably exposed to was at work within him, changing him...

There are two paths in this life, one, which is followed by the righteous, leads to light and Sigmar's glory; the other is steeped in damnation and leads only to ruin. But the way is not fixed, and many who begin their journey bathed in His purity slip and fall into darkness...

Sermon of Brother Clautus Grappa of the Order of Sigmar

Rules for a new Dramatis Persona by Nickodemus Kyme

A day of reckoning came at last, a wandering warlock, grievously wounded, happened upon the surgery. Despite his best efforts Simius could not save him such were his injuries. As the warlock grew cold upon the slab a subconscious urge drove Simius's hand to rummage through the man's belongings for a fee. He was bereft of possessions save for a leather bound book, etched in dried blood.

The tome contained many scriptures and instruction pertaining to the dead, even detailing arcane rites of resurrection. The warlock was infact a necromancer and Simius continued his work, devoting each night to the studying of the creature's tome. As time wore on, Simius changed, as did his practice. The lone and badly wounded were fair game to him now and he used his scalpel to snip their life's thread. He would then practice his new found 'art' on the corpses, reciting the ancient resurrection passages in earnest. Simius's skills developed and his transformation from genius to madman was soon complete. Shedding the clothes from the decaying Necromancer and donning them himself he wandered from the surgery and his old life and descended into Mordheim and utter damnation.

All that remains of the surgery now is a scorched patch of earth, Simius having razed it to ash. Voices whisper his name now, in the shadows and darkness. They call him Crow Master, such is the palpable aura of death that exudes from his very skin, a vicious murder of fell birds accompanying him wherever he goes, harbingers of pain and torture. His services can still be garnered at a price, yet the price is only known at Simius's whim, and is oft not gold nor wyrdstone...

May be hired: Any warband except Dwarfs, Elves, Sisters of Sigmar and Witch Hunters may hire Simius.

Rating: Simius increases the warband's rating by +85 points.

Simius	4	3	3	3	4	3	5	2	8

Weapons/Armour: Simius wears the Mantle of Crows, carries a staff and has a Needle and Thread.

Skills: Simius has the following skills: Sorcery and Dodge.

Spells: Simius knows all of the Necromancy spells and also knows an additional spell, specific to him, Decay of Ages.

Special Rules

Mantle of Crows: The mantle in appearance is a simple shabby cloak but has a hidden malign power. It attracts a murder of crows that circle around Simius distracting his adversaries. Any enemy model in base-to-base contact with Simius at the start of the Hand-to-hand Combat phase suffers a single automatic Strength 2 hit before any blows are struck.

Needle and Thread: A throwback to his surgeon's days, Simius carries a needle and thread. If Simius stuns an opponent in hand-to-hand combat and he has no other enemies standing in base-to-base contact, he sews up the mouth of his enemy. Leaders cannot then use their 'leader' ability and spell casters are unable to cast spells for the remainder of the battle.

Payment in blood: Simius is a zealous scientist and his propensity to experiment is seldom slaked. If the warband who hires him loses the battle he may decide to 'abduct' a hapless warrior to experiment on. Roll a D6. If you roll a 1, Simius abducts the Hero or Henchman with the lowest experience (not hired swords) and that warrior must be struck off the warband roster and for all intents and purposes is slain. Simius disappears without trace after he has collected his fee of course...

Decay of Ages

Difficulty: 9

Gesturing to his hapless victim with a bony outstretched finger Simius invokes the Decay of ages. Skin withers and cracks, muscles atrophy, bones become brittle as the victim ages horrifically in seconds.

This spell affects a single warrior within 6" of Simius Gantt. The warrior must pass an immediate Toughness test on a D6 or they will lose -1 from all of their characteristics with the exception of Attacks and Wounds. In each subsequent Recovery phase they must pass a Toughness test or will lose a further -1. As soon as they pass the test all characteristics are returned to normal. If any characteristic reaches 0 the model is taken out of action. Simius cannot cast this spell on more than one model at a time. If he decides to cast it again the effects on the previous victim are undone.

Revenge is Eternal...

Vampire Dramatis Personae

"The Lords of the Night will not be held to ransom by this whelp!" Count Vusitch declared emphatically, ramming his pale fist down upon the opulent table with a resounding thump. A finely cut wine glass that had been perched upon the table plunged to the rough cobblestone floor and shattered. Remembering his courtly composure, the vampire smoothed his finery and gestured for his ghoulish servants to replace his broken glass with another. They moved forward in a shambolic parody of servitude dressed in a ragged and decrepit interpretation of a manservant's garb.

Quaffing deeply from the blood wine, Vusitch's gaze fell upon Keloch, the hooded vampire who sat passively across from him.

"What say you Friedrich?" Keloch inquired, unmoved by Vusitch's outburst, without looking at the fellow night creature to his right, his voice low and resonating.

Friedrich was a fell and dishevelled creature, a lowborn night-stalker bedecked in filthy rags, stained in the brownish grime of dried blood. He held an animalistic glint in his eyes and looked upon Vusitch with obvious contempt.

"This Vampire," he began "she stalks her own kin?" The last part was a grunt of sorts.

"She is a rogue," a languid and uniquely alluring voice answered. The Lady Isabette was the last of the quartet. She sat alone, removed from the table, hidden by shadows. "She stole a potent artefact from Serutat, my patron, a jewel, the 'Noctu'."

"Your motivation is well noted Lahmian," Vusitch broke in, leaning forward "and we all know of the bounty on her head. But the more immediate danger is her killing of our brethren here in Mordheim," he explained spreading his arms wide, indicating the ruined coaching inn where their negotiations were taking place, where blood-drained corpses were already growing cold in the shadows, Vusitch's ghouls gnawing eagerly whenever their master's attention was elsewhere. "And our proposed alliance."

"Indeed she is a dark threat to our operations here," Keloch concurred.

"And there is vengeance to be wrought also, Keloch!" Isabette demanded in an uncharacteristic show of emotion. "My mistress has sent emissaries to the city. As we speak, they are readying by the south-east quarter, where she was last sighted and Serutat herself will arrive on these shores in mere days, lest she must exact her vengeance in person!"

"How interesting," Friedrich muttered beneath his breath.

"An alliance then," Vusitch proposed, his ghoulish servants scurried about the table at their master's subliminal command, one laying out a wine glass for each vampire while the other filled it with the blood wine.

"Agreed," said Keloch, reaching for his glass.

Isabette nodded her compliance. They would root out this Vampire turned Vampire hunter, exact revenge, and she personally would remove the Noctu from her decaying band.

"Death to the Vampire-bitch!" Friedrich hissed, his slaving tongue playing about his lips as the ghoulish manservant poured out his draught.

"Death!" Vusitch agreed and swilled back his blood wine.

Keloch and Isabette were about to join him when Vusitch clutched his throat; the glass sent clattering to the stony ground, shattering like its untainted counterpart. One hand fell to the table, grasping it so hard that a chunk of wood broke away. A misty pall of smoke exuded from Vusitch's neck as he staggered back, battering one of his fawning ghoulish servants away with a back swipe of his hand.

"Garlic," he spluttered through the bloody froth bubbling from his mouth.

Keloch stood, casting away his glass, "Treac...", he began but was stopped short when he noticed the wooden stake protruding from his chest. Keloch was burning ash in seconds, disintegrating as he turned to look at his attacker, the Vampire Friedrich.

"There will be no alliance," Friedrich declared, his voice distinctly feminine, reaching with, the folds of his rags to produce a finely wrought dart pistol which he used to despatch the two advancing ghouls. Each was pitched back by the force of the blow as they scrambled over the table to attack their master's assailant. Friedrich vaulted over the table athletically, replacing the dart pistol and drawing a long dagger in the same movement with the opposite hand. He beheaded the ghouls with two precise slashes of the dagger, then pivoted on his heel and back flipped as a blade swept past where he had seconds before been standing.

"It is you!" Isabette raged accusingly: sword drawn, bloodlust in her eyes.

Friedrich smiled an acknowledgement, sheathing the dagger then pulling away the ragged disguise and mask with a flourish.

"The confession of your mistress' movements was very useful," Marianna, Vampire assassin informed her. Bereft of her disguise Marianna was revealed in her true aspect. She wore black leather breeches and a tight-fitting jerkin displaying her more than ample charms. About her waist was a plethora of weapons, one of which she drew now, a long curved rapier. She adopted a duelling stance and grinned at her adversary revealing her vampiric canines.

"Your move, Milady," she goaded.

Roaring in furious anger Isabette charged forward with inhuman speed and rained a barrage of blows upon Marianna's defenses. At first she was hard-pressed to repel the onslaught such was Isabette's fury. But with the initial impetus of the Vampire's rage in check Marianna was able to dodge her attacks and open up a series of small wounds that hissed with the garlic essence upon Marianna's blade.

"You turn upon your own using the weapon of the Sigmar worshippers," Isabette accused her, stepping back, the excruciating pain of her small wounds blinding. It was all the respite Marianna needed. Blocking a clumsy overhand swing with her rapier she pulled her long dagger from her belt and beheaded Isabette in one swift and brutal motion. The still astonished corpse fell and was dust as it hit the ground, showering the stones with cursed ash.

"Whatever works," Marianna quipped, and noticed the struggling form of Count Vusitch in the corner of her eye.

He crawled along the floor, clutching his throat ineffectually, gaining some leverage on a wooden support beam as he desperately tried to reach the door of the coaching inn.

Marianna turned on her heel and threw the long dagger straight into the creature's back, impaling it upon the wooden beam. Vusitch convulsed in pain and exploded into dust, the long dagger left, still twitching, in the beam.

"There will be no alliance," Marianna repeated to herself. Without pausing further, she gathered her trappings and vaulted to the upper staircase of the coaching inn. In the shadows she watched as a dreg, doubtless one of Keloch's minions, entered the room and gaped at the four dust piles that had previously been vampires. Peering in the dust he found a single Black Orchid.

Satisfied her 'message' would deter other such pacts, Marianna headed off silently into the night, with little time to dally, some Marienburgers wanted a Reikland Captain dead by sunrise and everyone knew that Marienburgers always paid well...

Countess Marianna Chevaux, Vampire Assassin

A Saga of Revenge

Once an assassin-thief, Marianna's ambitions outreached her. In a daring expedition to Araby, she came into contact with the ancient Vampiress Serutat. Marianna succeeded in her mission, stealing the gem, the Noctu, from Serutat's crypt but the Vampiress caught up with her, tainting her with the curse of Vampirism before the resourceful assassin could escape.

In a moment Marianna had become a thing of the night and yet she was not completely damned, a half-vampire. Sating her bloodlust on the numerous courtesans, captains and suitors that came her way, Marianna fled the bitter vengeance of the Lahmian Vampire, Serutat, to Mordheim. With the City of the Damned her relative anonymity would be assured.

Marianna is a pragmatist, neutral in her persona, serving only her own means, hiring her skills out as an assassin, taking care to conceal her secret. Wary of witch hunters and the other devout servants of Sigmar, Marianna is a creature of the shadows, her vampiric powers enhancing her abilities immeasurably. And yet the flight to Mordheim serves an ulterior motive. Vampire turned Vampire Hunter and as such an exile in the dark Undead underworld, Marianna tracks the night-stalkers of Mordheim, torturing them for information; the whereabouts of Serutat and the true nature of the Noctu, the black jewel stolen from her crypt. Marianna's efforts have borne dark fruit, a word of power and the stone will create a veil of shadow to cloak the bearer, drifting like a black ether. Marianna means to seek out Serutat in her lair when she is vulnerable, exacting her own vengeance for damning her to darkness, her 'interrogations' warning her that the Vampire has travelled to the Empire to settle the score and retrieve the Noctu. A plethora of aliases have kept Marianna hidden so far but occasionally, during a battle in the deepest recesses of the city, minions of Serutat will appear out of the night to exact their mistress's vengeance, much to the surprise of the vying warbands. Marianna walks a dagger-thin line but thus far she has yet to slip...

Marianna comes up against her most hated foe – another Vampire...

Weapons/Armour: Marianna carries a rapier (see Town Cryer 7), dagger and has a set of throwing knives and a crossbow pistol concealed about her person. Her crossbow bolts and rapier are coated in essence of garlic, which acts as Black Lotus when used against Vampires. She also has quite an extensive wardrobe of very expensive Bretonnian silk dresses!

Skills: Marianna has the following skills: Combat Master, Step Aside, Leap, Acrobat, Lightning Reflexes, Dodge, Jump Up and Scale Sheer Surface.

SPECIAL RULES

Immune to Psychology: As a Vampire, Marianna is completely immune to the effects of psychology and will never leave combat.

Immune to Poison: As a Vampire, Marianna is completely immune to the effects of poison.

No Pain: Marianna treats a stunned result on the Injury chart as knocked down instead (note that with her Jump Up ability Marianna cannot be knocked down either so the only way to stop her is to take her out of action!).

Cause Fear: Marianna is a terrifying creature, although more through reputation than her being a Vampire as she is contriving to keep her identity a secret.

A new terror awaits the unwary in the dark streets of Mordheim

'You can never escape your past...': On the last turn of the game in which Marianna is still standing or as soon as a warband routs, ending the game, roll a D6:

- 1-3 Marianna has discovered that Serutat is getting close and will leave the warband's service after the game.
- 4-5 Marianna has discovered a useful lead that she must pursue in this area and will stay for another game if the warband can afford her upkeep.
- 6 A group of Serutat's minions have caught up with her! Fight D3 more turns as if the losing warband hadn't routed (in the confusion the balance is reset). A randomly determined group of minions 'appear' within 2D6" of Marianna, the opposing player chooses where. Marianna takes the first turn and then the minions, after which the turn sequence returns to normal with the minions counted as an extra player. The minions only attack Marianna and must move towards her as fast as possible but will attack anyone else in their way. If her warband fight to help her (by taking at least one minion out of action) and she survives, Marianna will fight the next battle for free, otherwise she will leave.

Roll D6 Minions

- 1-2 D3+1 Zombies
- 3-4 D3+1 Ghouls
- 6 Vampire (Sword & light armour) +2 Ghouls

Fighting Undead: Due to her vocation as a Vampire Assassin turned Vampire Hunter, all Vampires Hate Marianna.

The Noctu: The gemstone stolen from Serutat's lair has powerful cloaking properties. The veil of shadow it creates reduces all shooting to hit rolls against Marianna by -1.
